SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In 1952, we entered Wheatfield High School with sixty-six members. With Mr. Shreve as our sponsor, we elected Arthur Savich, president; Barbara Terpstra, vice-president; James Osborn, secretary; Betty Bowen, treasurer; and Mary Grube and Robert Hershman, senators. Barbara Terpstra was our choice for carnival queen.

Our sophomore year started with Mr. Manke as our sponsor. We selected James Osborn, president; Arthur Savich, vice-president; Mary Grube, secretary; Gisela Jacobsma, treasurer; and Ray Sculley and Madge Arnett, senators. At last we had the privilege of selecting our class sweaters. We decided on gray with green letters and trimming. Barbara Terpstra represented our class in the annual contest for carnival queen.

The day finally came when we were considered upperclassmen--we were juniors. With Miss Stroup and Miss Lyons as our sponsors, we elected Arthur Savich, president; James Osborn, vice-president; Henry DeBruin, secretary; Gisela Jacobsma, treasurer; and Mary Grube and Richard Cavinder, senators. Immediately we started upon the task of making money. We opened a stand to sell pop and candy during noons and at ballgames, Doralee Boezeman, our candidate, won the honor of carnival queen. We chose our class rings with the design of "Lucky Star." We were delighted when our rings arrived on January 3. "Bolts and Nuts," our class play, was given on April 5 and 6. Our biggest expenditure was our junior-senior prom. We worked laboriously setting the scene for our theme, "Stairway to the Stars."

Our senior year began on September 2, 1955, with Miss Brown and Mr. Ehrick as our sponsors. We selected as officers: Lillian Fulaytar, president; Joyce Tillema, vice-president; Arlene Brown, secretary; Doralee Boezeman, treasurer; and Mary Grube and Richard Cavinder, senators. Madge Arnett received the honor of carnival queen. Baccalaureate was held on May 20, and commencement on May 22. With our years in high school ended, we can now look back with pleasant memories and look forward to the future with its new experiences and opportunities.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

September 2, 1966

Dear Miss Brown,

Here I am back at the hospital in Gary after a wonderful vacation. Before starting on my trip out West, I stopped in Medaryville. While I was in a restaurant there, I saw Mr. and Mrs. ARTHUR SAVICH. Art is a dentist now in Medaryville and raises corn as a hobby. Mrs. Savich is the former BARBARA TERPSTRA, WAYNE CALLOWAY came in while I was there and told me that he has enlarged his father's store into a shopping center. He seems to be doing quite well. I also met Mrs. Robert Trent, the former MADGE ARNETT, in Medaryville with her twin boys. She said that BETTY BOWEN is now Mrs. William Holbrook, and they're living in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Then I started on my trip out West. In Iowa, I saw TWYLA SCULLEY, who is a private secretary to FRED ROSSMANITH, a famous lawyer, in Maquoketa, Iowa. BERNARD SEEGER is also in Iowa and operates a huge dairy farm. He said his brother, ALVIN, is a veterinarian in New York City. It seems as though they've both done pretty well for themselves.

My next stop was Reno, Nevada. There I saw DONALD RAICH singing at the Blue Flamingo. He brought his wife over to meet me. He told me that JIM OSBORN is a professional dancer at the club.

I then went on to Colorado where I learned HENRY DeBRUIN owns a 20,000-acre dude ranch. Of course, I couldn't leave without visiting him, and there I found Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, who were vacationing. Mrs. Brown, the former ARLENE BROWN, said that she is working for the Standard Oil Company of Dayton, Ohio. She also told me that NANCY STARZER is teaching a first-grade class in a new school in Hawaii. Nancy seems to enjoy her teaching and Hawaii. I also saw DIANA STANTON at the dude ranch. She is the main librarian of Rensselaer City Library.

My final stop was San Francisco, California. I suppose you've read in the newspapers that DICK CAVINDER is an Olympic star. He just broke the world pole-vaulting record by clearing 17 ft. 10 in. The crowd was so excited that LT. JOHN CALDWELL and his men had to quiet them. John has made the army his career.

I took the plane back to Chicago and who do you think the pilot was--no one but RAY SCULLEY, He said that he received a letter from LILLIAN FULAYTAR last week, and she's now on an expedition in the Sierras looking for the Lost City of Gold. She always was one to seek adventure.

When I got back here to the hospital, there was a letter waiting from JOYCE TILLEMA. She's a missionary in North Africa. I guess there's really a need for her there. Joyce wrote that DORALEE BOEZEMAN has a beauty parlor in Chicago. She has taken over "Charles of the Ritz," in the Drake Hotel.

You'll never guess who I saw when I went on duty. WILBERT HAMSTRA was a patient as a result of going through the sound barrier. He's a speed boat driver now. I went on down the hall and saw MARIANNE BAYS, who is starting her nurse's training here.

I saw Mrs. Bud Myers, the former ARLA DEERBERG, in the waiting room. One of her girls has appendicitis. She has six more children at home.

PEGGY DeMOSS came in to give a pint of blood. She is working in the sorew factory here in Gary. Peggy says PHYLLIS PIERSON is working as a nurses' aide in the Valparaiso hospital, and HELEN BORMANN is owner and operator of the DeMotte Skating Rink. Helen also gives skating lessons.

I must close now, as I have to report for night duty.

A former student,

Mary Grube

Memories of our senior year

The junior play of the Class of 1956 was "Bolts and Nuts," a three-act mystery-comedy. The story took place in a health resort in Missouri. The plot thickened when each of the patients tried to find the hidden money. The play ended when the hidden money was found and all the patients were cured.

The cast included:

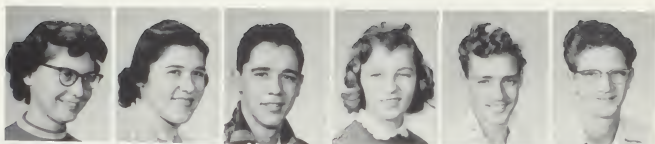

Benita Bolt, Rebecca's niece	Madge Arnett
Luitie Spinks, the maid who winked	Twyla Sculley
Rebecca Bolt, manager of Bolt Sanitarium for Mental Hygiene	Gisela Jacobsma
Martha Grubb, the cook	Mary Grube
Twink Starr, Benita's fiance	Dick Cavinder
Dr. Hippocrates Joy, a psychiatrist	Art Savich
Henry Goober, the porter who was afraid of lunatics	Donald Raich
Phinea Plunkett, a lawyer with a humility complex	Wilbert Hamstra
Miss Prunella Figg, a patient with claustrophobia	Arla Deerberg
Cadwaller Clippy, a patient who was afraid of cats	Robert Hershman
Mrs. Gertie Glossop, a patient who feared contamination	Doralee Boezeman
Wilbur Glossop, her darling child	Alvin Seegers
Jack Gordon, a young intern	Wayne Calloway

The Class of 1957 entered this school year with fifty-one students. Under the direction of their sponsors, Miss Stroup and Miss Traverse, they chose class officers as follows: president, Tracy Jones, vice-president, David Krieve; secretary, Audrey Krypel; treasurer, Peggy Martin; and senators, Irene Mueller and David Cavinder.

The most exciting time in the life of a junior is the selection of his class ring. The juniors chose the "American Beauty" style for their rings this year.

The junior carnival queen candidate was Audrey Krypel and her assistant was Carolyn Dahm. The juniors held their first class party in December.

Early in January, they began working on their class play. On January 26 and 27, they presented "Dotty and Daffy."

Forty-six students returned to start their high school year as sophomores.

Under the supervision of Mr. Gard, their sponsor, they chose as class officers the following: president, Gary Green; vice-president, Glen Friberg; secretary and treasurer, Jean Fulaytar; and senators, Louise Stalbaum and Beverly Savich.

The boys chose Janet Dobson as their carnival queen candidate. Janet placed second.

During the first part of November they ordered their class sweaters from Decker's, and the blue sweaters with yellow letters arrived the last part of November.

On January 21, they held their first class party, a "Hard Times Party."

The freshman class elected the following officers: Darrell Allen, president; Ricky Boezeman, vice-president; Ray Wireman, treasurer; and Dianne Bricker, secretary. Miss Hammerstein was their sponsor. Cooperation and hard work paid dividends when the class placed first in the school carnival and received a check for $15. The freshmen were also one of the three winners in filling the Thanksgiving baskets.

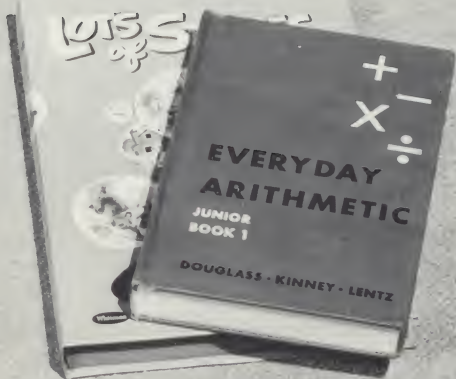

The freshman dance, Harvest Festival, "was an overwhelming success. The gymnasium was decorated in orange, brown, green, and yellow. Glittering moons, stars, and bells adorned the door. Refreshments were supplied by the class members.

A ways and means committee was appointed to devise methods of raising money for the treasury.

Crisp nights, blazing lights echoed football

FOOTBALL

Although the Devils started the season with a young and inexperienced team, they finished with an impressive 7-5 record. The senior who participated in football, Dick Cavinder, was chosen as honorary captain of the team for the year of 1955.

The major letter winners for the year were: Dick Cavinder, Glen Friberg, Luke Gilbert, Gary Green, Donald Jefferson, Tracy Jones, Robert Mathis, Joseph McFarland, and John Terpstra.

The minor letter winners were: Ed Allen, Art Bierma, Tom Blaszczyk, Rick Boezeman, Eldon Jeffries, Steve Mathis, William Sampson, and Ronald Stanton.

TRACK

The Wheatfield Devils had a very successful track season with a 4 and 3 record. They won the Hebron Invitational, the Lowell Invitational, and two DeMotte four-way tournaments. Then they finished second in the Rensselaer Relays, second in the K. V. Track Meet, and third in the Jasper County Meet.

Basketball season was action packed

Starting with a very young team, having lost most of last year's players, the Devils opened the season by defeating Mt. Ayr, Tefft, Dyer, and Fair Oaks in succession. But then the competition got rough and the Devils lost three games and won three before the K. V. T. The Devils beat Kentland, Morgan, and DeMotte but were defeated by Remington, Edison, and Liberty Township.

In the K. V. T. the Devils won their first two games but bowed again to Remington in the final game.

After the K. V. T. the Devils lost to Goodland and came back by whipping Fair Oaks, Kouts, and Medaryville. The end of the season found them in a losing streak as they lost the last three games to Hebron, Brook, and San Pierre.

The Devils won their first sectional tournament game in six years by defeating Brook, but they lost the semi-final game to Rensselaer by two points in an overtime.

Altogether the Devils had a good season--ending with a 13-9 record. The whole team wants to thank the cheerleaders, Beverly Savich and Janet Dobson, for their wonderful co-operation in getting the fans to root for the Devils.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Two senators from each of the upper six grades were chosen to represent their class in the Student Council. Officers for this year were Dick Cavinder, President; David Cavinder, Vice-President; and Beverly Savich, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Council tried to make some improvements in the school this year. They planned a method of staggering the fourth period classes in order to shorten the lunch line. They attempted to improve the way the students left the school house during a fire drill.

At Thanksgiving, the Student Council sponsored a food drive for the needy families in the community. The canned food that was left over from this drive was distributed at Easter. They also sponsored a full-length movie which was shown to the entire school.

editing, deadlines, mimeographing, distribution

The large group of students who wished to work on the ECHO were assigned positions on the staff in September. Everyone started working immediately to meet the first deadline. The subscription staff sold subscriptions; the reporters were assigned news stories and features by the special editors; and the editors carefully checked all copy turned in to them. Then the advanced typing class did a magnificent job of typing stencils, mimeographing, and assembling the papers; and the circulation staff saw that each subscriber received his issue. The entire staff cooperated to meet the deadlines of the eight large issues of the ECHO.

Subscription staff took orders.

Irene and Joe, co-editors, checked copy.

Typing class typed stencils.

Harriett drew covers

Girls operated mimeograph.

Assembly line put paper together.

Distribution staff issued papers.

copy, cameras, layout sheets, rubber cement,

Positions on the ARCUS staff were filled early in September. Immediately the members of the advertising staff started making their visits to the businessmen to collect advertisements to help pay part of the cost of the annual. The subscription staff soon began to urge students to order their yearbooks before the deadline.

The editors and their staff began racking their brains for new ideas. They selected a theme and chose a cover design which would carry out their idea. The staff decided on the type of end sheets they wanted and the color of the cover.

While this was going on, Doralee Boezeman was taking snapshots of classes, of class officers, and of school activities.

Then the editors began to think about how they could carry out the theme and how to arrange the pages of the book. Plans were devised, and the staff was called on to help with the layout sheets.

With the help of their sponsor, Miss Ghere, the staff finally finished the ARCUS on time.

Doralee sells a subscription.

Lillian, editor, and Mary, senior editor, discuss a section.

Arlene, Nancy, and Helen arrange senior pictures.

Activities editor and assistants plan layout.

Joe, Tracy, and David work on sports pages.

festivals, concerts, contests,

The 1955-1956 Wheatfield band started the year by playing at the football games and the Fall Festival. Later they performed at the carnival, the basketball games, the Christmas program, and a circus.

In March, the band played for the students of DeMotte School, who had previously played for us. On March 24 the band took part in the district contest, and they ended their year with a spring program.

Special honor goes to Gene Hamstra and Tommy Cavinder, who played at the instrumental contest, and to Peggy Martin and Joan Myers, who played in the band clinic at Purdue University.

The chorus classes started their season of entertainment with the Fall Music Festival and the carnival. They also sang at the Christmas program. Then in March they went to the district contest at Valparaíso. When April rolled around, the chorus presented an operetta, "H. M. S. Pinafore," by Gilbert and Sullivan.

Special credit goes to the members who sang at the music contest in Gary on January 28. Those winning second places were Wayne Calloway, Jim Osborn, Wilma Hettrick, Alberta Leach, Sandra Owens, Peggy Martin, and a quartet consisting of Alica Stalbaum, Marilyn Myers, Angela Fox, and Nancy Klemz. Pat Gienza and Sonja Stanton won third places. Leona and Christine Lauraitis won first places in the piano contest.

banquets, initiation, charity work, Ideal Ladies,

The first meeting of the Sunshine Society was held in September. Plans were made for the initiation of the newly-enrolled members.

The girls worked very hard selling Bower's candy, stationery, salt and pepper shaker sets, and Lazy Susans to build up their treasury.

They planned to carry out two projects this year. One of these projects was to send two girls to Sunshine Camp, and the other was to acquire forty dollars to send to the Riley Hospital Fund.

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet was held in December. The F.F.A. Banquet and Athletic Banquet were prepared and served by the Sunshine girls in the spring.

judging ability, parliamentary procedure, perfecting projects

The local F. F. A. chapter had fifty members this year. These members took part in many activities. They participated in the following contests: judging of livestock, dairy, poultry and eggs, land, and vegetables; parliamentary procedure; forestry identification; pest control; and farm safety.

The club sponsored a parent and son banquet and put on a special school assembly program to help commemorate National F. F. A. week.

For money-making projects, the boys sold concrete hog troughs, "No Trespassing" signs, and Vitality garden and flower seeds; picked up corn; held a scrap iron drive; and cultivated a five-acre wheat crop project.

mending, cataloging and stamping books, new pins

The Student Librarians Club started the season with twenty-one members. This year they undertook two projects. One of the projects was the acquiring of two poles for the newspapers in the library. The other project was for each club member to purchase a Christmas and a birthday gift for an underprivileged child in the first six grades.

The members of the club decided to buy pins this year and to wait until they are seniors to receive their guards.

Officers for this year were Joe McFarland, president; Louise Stalbaum, vice-president; and Margaret Schultz, secretary-treasurer.

BOYS' SERVICE CLUB

The Boys' Service Club was slow in getting organized this year. When they met, they elected the following officers: Dick Cavinder, president; Joe McFarland, vice-president; Fred Rossmannith, secretary; and David Krieve, treasurer. Their sponsor was Mr. Jones.

The club sponsored a dance on February 10 to raise funds for glass bankboards for the gym.

learning lines, play practice...and then that night

1955 SENIOR PLAY

The senior class on May 3 and 4 presented their play, "Books and Crooks." It was a rollicking story telling how two bank robbers took refuge from the law in a high school with one crook imposing as the principal. They were finally caught through the help of a student at the high school. The cast was as follows:

Gerald, a student	Donnie Misch
Miss Irene Hamilton, the principal's secretary	Carolyn Martin
Arnold Q. Henly, the principal	James O'Connor
Larry Malone, a student	Carson Bailey
Lindy Williams, a student	Shirley Davis
Goody Gulfhopper, a student	Pat Miller
Raymond "The Prof" Nichols, at large	James O'Connor
Francis, his partner, also at large	Donald Fulaytar
P. Oliver Burkholder, the president of the bank	Gregory Schiff
Mrs. Mildred Gunklock, an anxious band mother	Karen Williams
Mrs. Margaret Blickle, an anxious band mother	Mary Long
Lieutenant Shaw, of the police department	Walter Rossmanith

The play took place in the outer office and the principal's office of the Alexander Hamilton High School.

delicious dinner , candlelights, soft music, formal dance

The time for the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom finally arrived on May 6.

The theme chosen for the prom was "Stairway to the Stars", and the gym was decorated to represent this scene. The room was lit with candles, and Glen Martin's band played.

The supper was prepared by the mothers of the juniors, and served by the sophomore girls.

To conclude an enjoyable evening, Linda Green was chosen as prom queen.

We hope you have enjoyed the 1956 ARCUS. Our endeavor has been to produce a yearbook of merit and of lasting value. As you look through this ARCUS now and in the years to come, may it be a pictorial reminder of happy days at W. H. S.

Our special thanks goes to all of our contributors and advertisers who have made this book possible. We hope that all of you read the ads and then visit the merchants who have advertised in our yearbook. We appreciate their help in making our ARCUS a financial success.

Thanks,

The ARCUS Staff and Sponsor

VAN KEPPEL CONSTRUCTION

A Thousand Hands

"I've made my way through life,"
He said;
"I owe no man a thing."
That night he dreamt
He stood upon
A lofty mountain peak;
And he was proud
That he had scaled it
By himself;
But when he looked below,
He saw a thousand hands
Were holding him
Where they had pushed him up.
